

Managed Risk Services

Managing and maintaining a secure environment for your business operations requires a balance of proper planning and constant diligence — tasks that are typically handled by a dedicated staff of trained security specialists.

VantagePoint Security's Managed Risk Services were developed to help your business maintain this balance — while avoiding the expense of additional dedicated security staff.

Based on your specific requirements, an industry certified information security specialist will work on-site with your staff performing security related tasks. Our security specialists can be leveraged to augment your existing security staff and strengthen your overall security program.

Whether you choose to schedule weekly, bi-weekly or monthly on-site Managed Risk Services, your staff will benefit from the knowledge transfer that takes place with focused help from a knowledgeable and experienced security specialist.

Areas where your business might benefit from the on-site assistance of a certified information security expert include:

- ✓ Patch management
- ✓ Firewall management
- ✓ Server security management
- ✓ Change control
- ✓ Architecture and standards
- ✓ Security incident response planning

Next Steps

VantagePoint Security has a portfolio of professional services that provide natural next steps for moving your business from its current security position to one of acceptable risk.
