Security Assessments and Risk Mitigation

A Security Assessment is an objective, business-focused activity that is carefully designed to identify risks that could impact your business.

VantagePoint Security has developed an assessment methodology that focuses on three key business elements: people, practices, and technology. Our certified information security specialists closely examine these key business elements.

Your assessment results are presented in a format that provides a big-picture, consolidated view in a clear, visual representation that includes detailed risk reporting and recommendations for guiding the mitigation process.

VantagePoint Security delivers professional services to mitigate risks identified through our Security Assessment services. We tailor our services to incorporate your business plans and maximize your existing security investments.

Business Security Strategy

A sound Business Security Strategy balances your information security requirements with the objectives of your business — allowing your business to perform in an environment of acceptable risk.

VantagePoint Security's Business Security Strategy services tackle the key components of your security strategy — establishing a solid foundation for securing your valuable information assets and minimizing future information security investments.

Our certified information security specialists will work with you to clearly understand your business objectives and, leveraging their industry experience, develop the following key components of your Business Security Strategy:

safeguarding the integrity of business information™

Managed Risk Services

Managing and maintaining a secure environment for your business operations requires a balance of proper planning and constant diligence — tasks that are typically handled by a staff of trained security experts.

VantagePoint Security's Managed Risk Services help your business maintain this balance — while avoiding the expense and overhead associated with a permanent staff of certified information security experts.

Awareness Programs

The objective of a security awareness program is the education of the organization's employees on the details of its Security Policy, and industry recognized best practices for safe computing. This should include why the organization has a Security Policy, and how the organization measures, controls, and enforces its Security Policy.

VantagePoint Security's Awareness Programs are focused on building awareness of information and business security — from a roles and responsibility perspective. This equips employees with the knowledge needed to protect critical business functions and information.

Business Recovery Planning Services

A solid business recovery plan should identify your critical business functions, and the steps necessary to recover them. Then, should a disaster occur, your business can quickly get back on its feet, minimizing financial impact.

VantagePoint Security believes that implementing a good security practice should translate directly into your disaster recovery model — meaning the same things identified as important in your security model are equally important for business recovery.

Compliance Services

Our Compliance Services are designed to help you achieve — and maintain compliance as quickly and efficiently as possible, while managing your day-to-day job demands.

Specializing in the Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard (PCI DSS), and HIPAA Security Rule, VantagePoint Security's Compliance Services will help your company meet the demanding standards utilizing the most cost effective approach.
